HUSBAND NO. ONE CHARGES BIGAMY; WIFE CONFESSES

Marion E. Beck Egidio is Released On Two Years' Probation

MARRIED AGAIN IN 1932

Husband No. 2 Not in Court When Matter Is Aired

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 8.—Attractive 24-year-old Marion E. Beck Egidio, of Ashley, Pa., who was arrested on a charge of bigamy on the information of husband No. 1, after he had learned that she had married again after deserting her, pleaded guilty in court and was released on probation for a period of two years on condition that she pay the costs of prosecution. She paid up and left for home with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Beck, of Ashley, Pa.

Thomas J. Egidio, of 57 Nicholas street, Wilkes-Barre, a well-known roadster, now working in New Jersey, was called as the first witness. He married Marion about six years ago and they have a 4-year-old daughter, now in the custody of the child's grandmother.

Mrs. Egidio, who is now living with her mother, testified that she left her husband, Thomas, after marrying him, and that she took the baby with her.

"In January, 1932, I went to Lyndhurst to work," Mrs. Egidio declared. "I secured work as a practical nurse in a doctor's office. In Lyndhurst I met Aldo Liva, 25, a nephew of the doctor. I told Aldo many times that I was already married but he kept on coaxing and we went to Doylestown and got married by Justice of the Peace W. Carlie Hobensack after I had sworn at the marriage license bureau that we had never been married before. I was married the second time on February 23, 1932.

"I cannot explain to the Court why I married Aldo, when I already had a husband. We moved to Newark, to Rutherford and then to Lyndhurst to live.

"Thomas Egidio came to me and asked me to pay him $1000 and he would not air this affair in the open and that it would be kept quiet. I guess the only reason that I married Aldo is because I was in love with him. I might go through with another marriage with Aldo, if everything is fixed up and we can be married legally after I'm divorced from my first husband."

Mrs. Ellen Beck, mother of the defendant, testified that she did not know that Marion was going to marry Aldo and that when she found it out she tried to persuade her that it was not the right thing to live with him when she was legally married to another. Mrs. Beck said that she would provide a home for her daughter in Ashley in the future if the Court would permit her to go along home.

Judge Boyer called Mrs. Egidio's attention to the fact the law provides for a fine of $2000 and a penitentiary sentence of two years for bigamy.

"What do you think of the example that you set for other girls?" Judge Boyer asked the 24-year-old twice-married mother.

"I do not know why I did it," she replied.

"Your desire for this man overcame your good scruples, evidently," the Judge continued. "You were willing to ruin your character and in addition to that you did not stop to consider your baby daughter, whose mother has been arrested. I'm not saying these things to hurt your feelings, but only to impress it on your mind that you have committed a very serious offense. I'll take a chance on you and on what the effect may be, by placing you on probation for two years."

Aldo Liva, 25, was not in Court yesterday. He had informed Marion that he would not come into Pennsylvania for then he "would get it too." Mrs. Egidio informed Judge Boyer that Liva said the prosecution was "a frame-up anyway."

PINCHOT APPROVES

Harrisburg, Feb. 8.—Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania today declared his hearty approval of President-elect Roosevelt's decision to meet with the Governors of the Nation next month.

"Governor Roosevelt's proposal is, in my opinion, one of the best things that has happened for years in American public life," said Governor Pinchot.

"Nothing could be more helpful than close relationship between the President and the Governors of the States. Of course I shall attend."

The Pennsylvania executive pointed out that the first conference of Governors in the White House was called by Theodore Roosevelt. "It launched a national conservation policy," he added. "The coming conference is to discuss a part of that policy and other great national questions. I look forward to great results, especially along the line of unemployment relief."

MAKE LAST EFFORT

Geneva, Feb. 8.—Yusuko Matsuo, Japanese delegate to the League of Nations, made a last frantic effort today to prevent the virtually certain Japanese resignation from the league. With the sub-committee of nine proceeding with the report on the Sino-Japanese-Manchurian conflict, under paragraph 4, article 15 of the covenant, Matsuo conferred with representatives of the major powers. He then called on Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general, and pleaded with him to use his influence to prevent formulation and adoption by the league of the "dangerous" report.

WANT INTEREST REDUCTION

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 8.—Carrying out the doctrine of Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, minister of economics and agriculture in Chancellor Hitler's cabinet, German government representatives at the "stand still" conference today formally demanded reduction on interest rates to this country's private debts. In addition, a government spokesman insisted upon conversion of the bulk of short term loans into long term obligations.

LOW TEMPERATURES HOLD STATES IN GRASP

Bitter Cold Weather Follows in the Wake of Blizzard

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—(INS)—Bitter cold temperatures ranging from zero to 36 below settled a paralyzing grasp over the Central and Western states today in the wake of one of the worst blizzards in recent years.

The mercury fell well below the zero mark in the Chicago area today as the city dug its way out of twelve inches of heavily drifted snow which blocked highways and interrupted all transportation.

Seven deaths were attributed to the storm here as the blizzard rolled eastward over the Great Lakes region.

Authorities closed all the schools here. Many communities throughout the Central states took similar action.

Weather forecasters predicted the cold wave will last throughout the week.

A thick blanket of snow lay over the entire area from the Rocky Mountains to the Great Lakes. In many sections the drifts made highways impassable. Hundreds of automobiles lined the roads, abandoned by their drivers. Airplane transportation was practically at a standstill.

The storm, whirling out of the Pacific Northwest, penetrated as far south as Texas, where snow fell and the mercury dropped to zero.

At Bismarck, N. D., the mercury fell to 36 below. Subzero readings in other cities were: Duluth, Minn., 30; Huron, S. D., 24; Omaha, 12; Voohead, Minn., 28; Rapid City, S. D., 26; and Wichita, Kan., 8.

MORRISVILLE FIREMEN CONSIDER FEE CHARGE

Companies With Three Councilmen Look Upon "Foreign" Calls

50% ARE OUT OF TOWN

MORRISVILLE, Feb. 8.—Fire companies here in conjunction with three representatives of Borough Council are considering making a charge for fire services rendered out-of-town.

With 43 of the 77 alarms answered during 1932 coming from out of town has brought the matter to the front for discussion.

A meeting will be held soon when the question will be more fully discussed and some definite action taken. Some of the councilmen favor making an annual charge while others believe that a charge should be made for each time alarm is answered.

Morrisville Borough has a fire tax of one and a half mills for fire protection purposes and this nets the local department about $4,000 annually. The money is used to pay off notes due on the fire apparatus and to pay for fire house expenses, such as heat, light, engine, fuel, tires, etc.

Morrisville has five pieces of motor apparatus, all of it in first class condition and some of it practically new. Many of the taxpayers feel that it is unfair to the township committee of the neighboring sections to expect Morrisville residents to pay for their fire protection.

This matter has been discussed from time to time for several years but no definite action has been taken but it is expected definite results will come from the next meeting.

Morrisville firemen and councilmen declare they are always willing to help out in case of emergency but when the local firemen are called to every grass and rubbish fire in neighboring townships it is time, they argue, that taxpayers of these districts pay something toward the upkeep and cost of the equipment, now supported solely by Morrisville residents.

CUBAN ARTIST TO TELL OF CUBAN CONDITIONS

Makes Plea for Americans to Back the People of Island Republic

COMING HERE MONDAY

Miss Clarita Porset, a Cuban artist and exile, is scheduled to arrive in Bristol to speak next Monday evening.

Miss Porset will visit Bristol under auspices of the Travel Club, and will give an address about her own country at the Travel Club home at eight o'clock. The public is invited to attend. No admission charge will be made, but a silver offering will be accepted.

The young woman is connected with the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom. She is an associate of the liberal groups which have been fighting for civil liberties in the island republic. She fled for her life when she learned the police were looking for her, and is now touring the East in an effort to arouse public interest in the plight of Cuba.

The Cuban woman recently stated "Only two groups in Cuba have money today—the army and police, well paid by Machado and the American bankers. To get funds to pay the military and to meet the interest on the debt our people are taxed almost out of existence."

The plea which Miss Porset makes to all Americans is: "We beg all Americans who love freedom and liberty to write Mr. Hamilton Fish and let him know that they support his stand. For unless help comes very soon it will be too late. All the students, most of the professional men and women, nearly all the intellectual and moral leaders of the country will be dead or driven from the country."

GAMBLE CONCERT CO. IS COMING TO BRISTOL

Musical Group Has Made Many Tours and Pleased Variety of Audiences

HERE, FEBRUARY 16TH

The Gamble Concert Company, of LaGrange, a company that has made many tours of the United States as well as world tours, is coming to Bristol next week.

The date of the appearance here is Thursday evening, February 16th. The group, consisting of Ernest Gamble, bass; Verna Page, violinist; and another vocalist, will have a new and pleasure-giving group of songs and instrumental numbers.

This musical treat, given under auspices of the choir in the Bristol Presbyterian Church, will, as always, please. Music lovers do not let seats stand idle at Gamble concerts, and this it is predicted will be no exception to the rule, for tickets are selling fast.

The Ernest Gamble Concert Company was formed in the belief that there is always a sufficient number of discriminating people, interested in hearing good music delightfully and attractively presented, to support a high-class attraction. The fact that many successful seasons are in the party's record, is eloquent testimony that the party is a great favorite with music lovers. Its work lies on a lofty plane of artistic endeavor, its selections are from the standard classics, its elaborately-arranged programs stimulate its listeners.

The artists of the Gamble Company are more than entertainers, they are educators, and their concerts uplift and cultivate a taste for better things, and that, too, without performing over the heads of their audience.

A program of excellent merit is being outlined for presentation here.

INTEMPERANCE

Public attention has been so long centered on the intemperate use of alcoholic beverages that the word "intemperate" has lost its broad meaning among a great part of the populace. If one were to ask the average person to define the word the definition most frequently given would be "to drink to excess," or something to the same effect.

Compare this popular understanding of the word with its definitions as found in Webster's dictionary:

"Indulging any appetite or passion to excess; immoderate in enjoyment or exertion; ungovernable, immoderate, inordinate; as, intemperate language, zeal, etc."

So it becomes evident that one may be intemperate in many different ways. There are intemperate eaters, intemperate smokers, intemperate workers, intemperate sleepers, intemperate idlers, intemperate spenders, intemperate talkers, intemperate thinkers, intemperate reformers; and finally there may be intemperance in anything.

In an essay on "The Evils of Intemperance" appears the statement:

"The history of mankind has shown that intemperance is the greatest evil which has afflicted the human race. Yet this is the lesson that mankind from age to age and from generation to generation persistently forgets. Spiritual intemperance unleashes the forces of hate, bigotry, oppression, tyranny, and the like, and any or all of which have potentialities for evil in civilized communities that may be compared only with the physical intemperance that weakens and destroys barbarous or semi-civilized peoples."

Victory in civilization's war against intemperance in the use of intoxicating liquors will not abolish all intemperance. There are other forms of intemperance equally devastating and intolerable.

INDIVIDUALISM IN BUSINESS

The status of the small, independent merchant in our present commercial structure is a subject which has received much attention of late from economists and students of business problems. The question whether he has a secure position in the development of business is being answered emphatically in the affirmative.

The resourcefulness and freedom of action of the individual will always go far toward offsetting the advantage of large-scale operations of the more complicated organizations. The independent business man with reasonable capital willing to utilize new methods and take advantage of new conditions has a greater opportunity today than ever before. Of course in this era of changing business methods the merchant who refuses to consider the new order of things must give ground to his more efficient competitor.

The independent merchant who functions intelligently as purchasing agent for his community has a distinct opportunity to render a real social service with profit to himself. The principal innovation introduced by the large corporation is the new type of management and the recognized value of large-scale economies; but big business has no right on profitable methods and mere bulk is by no means necessarily synonymous with efficiency.

Speed King's Wife

A charming studio portrait of Lady Malcolm Campbell, wife of Sir Malcolm Campbell, Britain's dare-devil auto driver, who is her husband's most ardent supporter. Lady Campbell has the utmost confidence in the ability of her husband to drive his car faster than any human being has ever traveled on land before. Sir Malcolm is now at Daytona Beach, Fla., where he will shortly attempt to beat his own record of 254 miles an hour.

HOLLYWOOD.—Newest sensation in Hollywood is young Franchot Tone, not so long ago president of the Cornell Dramatic Society and more lately of Broadway.

On the strength of one picture, Joan Crawford's "Today We Live," Mr. Tone is proclaimed a find and is assigned to portray the hero of a "Bombshell," a story about Hollywood which has been so kind to him.

Further, he is to appear opposite Jean Harlow, another major star on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot.

This youthful leading man is not new, however, to the business of supporting prominent actresses. Was he not Lenore Ulric's vis-a-vis in "Pagan Lady?"

Around the lot, Tone is a very approachable young man with a nice smile and a humorous glint to his eye. He is a bachelor, lives in a small beach cottage at Santa Monica and is fed and groomed by a Korean house-boy.

He took Joan Crawford out dancing one night, with Doug Jr.'s full consent, and he's still amazed at the amount of talk it created.

But if you want to see him really nervous, just call him the new comet in the cinema sky.

They tell a very funny story on Bob Hopkins, one of the old title-writers and now a dialogue expert at M-G-M.

Not so long ago, Bob took a script in to be passed upon by a couple of studio officials.

As they read it over, first one would nod his head and then the other, or they would shake their heads in unison. Finally Bob could stand it no longer.

"Say," he demanded, "are you guys working on wires?"

HOLLYWOOD PARADE:

It looks very much now as if Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., may not see each other in New York. Due to added scenes on her picture, she can't leave here until a week from today. Doug Jr. must report to Warners on the 15th their trains may pass each other. . . . Madge Evans, all dressed in green, had lunch next to me at A-G-M yesterday. I asked her again about her reported engagement to Tom Gallery. Says she: "When I'm ready to go back to the stage, I may get married. While I'm in pictures, never!" Like you, I wondered "how come," and she replied: "because it is practically impossible to stay married in this business."

Does it strike you funny that the Fox property department heats Elissa Landi's uniforms to a comfortable temperature before she puts them on every morning? They are for "The Warrior's Husband" and are made chiefly of metal. . . . Birthday greetings to Ramon Novarro who'll be another year older on Monday. . . . Harry Fox, old-timer in the cafe, vaudeville and musical comedy business, the new master of ceremonies at Sebastian's Cotton Club here. At one time Fox was married to Rosizca Dolly. Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Howard Hughes, Wally Ford and a number of other film celebrities were on hand to greet Fox and Dorothy Ates at the opening of the new show at this late spot.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by WILL L. Lindhorst

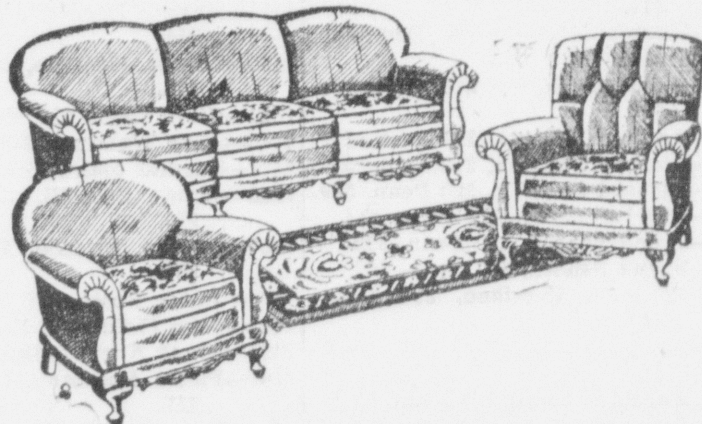

TAKING CARD FROM UNDER QUARTER WITHOUT MOVING COIN

Place a quarter in the center of a small card about two inches square and balance the card on the tip of the index finger of your left hand. The quarter, in the center of the card, will then be directly above the finger tip, with the card between it and the finger. The trick is to remove the card without moving the quarter. This is done by flipping the card sharply on the edge with the middle finger of the right hand. As the card is hit it will fly out from under the quarter, leaving the quarter balanced on the finger tip. It is necessary to strike the card sharply on a straight or horizontal angle.

CLEVELAND INDIANS NEVER MEET PROMISES

(This is the seventh of a series of sixteen articles by Pat Robinson analyzing the major league baseball clubs and outlining their prospects for the season.)

By Pat Robinson
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(INS)—Like a jilting debutante, the Cleveland Indians are always promising but never quite living up to their promises. This year they are more promising than ever but it would be futile to try to guess their performance; we can only figure what they should do.

The team boasts some great pitchers, a smart catcher, a fair infield and a good outfield. It also packs a healthy wallop but it is an unevenly balanced aggregation, with a couple of question marks at short and first base.

Wesley Ferrell is generally rated the best right hand pitcher in the country and Oral Hildebrand is so good numerous scouts think he will one day supplant Ferrell as the ace of the Cleveland staff. Harder, Hudlin and Brown are winners.

The team has some likely looking youngsters and two of them, Ralph Winegarner and Balve Bean might make the grade.

The Indians made a smart move in getting Roy Spencer from the Senators. Spencer knows how to handle temperamental pitchers to get the best results.

Harley Hoss, who has a trick knee, may be able to supplant Morgan at first base, in which case Morgan might be shifted to the outfield where he belongs. Cissell at second and Kamm at third are good workmen. Earl Averill is the best outfielder in the American League and Joe Vossnik is rapidly rising to stardom, if indeed he has not already reached there.

The team does not bear the earmarks of a pennant winner but it should land in the first division.

Down the Bowling Alleys

Harriman won four points from Odd Fellows last night in a league match, the latter team rolling with only two men.

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 8.—(INS)—The Royal Air Force monoplane piloted by Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and Flight Lieutenant P. E. Nicoletts, broke the world's non-stop flight record today when it passed over Oti, South West Africa, en route to Cape Town from Cranwell, England.

The plane reached Oti after covering 5,024 miles, thus breaking the record set by John Polando and Russell Boardman, who flew from New York to Istanbul, in 1931, by about 12 miles.

It was later reported but not confirmed that the fliers had passed over Zesfontein, 50 miles nearer their goal.

BRISTOL HIGH LEADS LOWER END LEAGUE

By Oscar Corn
(H. S. Press Representative)

With the stands packed with enthusiastic spectators, the Bristol High quintet overpowered the strong Blue and Yellow, Morrisville five, winning by the close score of 21 to 20. The Cardinal and Gray team, showing a fine fighting spirit and perseverance, downed Morrisville in a game which was packed with thrills.

The Strangers, after having already defeated before, went to the Morrisville court with a spirit that made them an almost unbeatable team. Morrisville wanted this game very much, so she fought hard, but when the final whistle blew they were on the short end of the score.

Brown took the scoring laurels for Bristol, with seven points while Howe led the Blue Dogs.

The winning of this game puts Bristol into the undisputed and unchallenged lead of the Lower Bucks County League, with a percentage of 1,000, having won seven games and lost none.

The Bristol High sextet, in the first game of the evening, fought the Morrisville six to 20-29 tie.

The game was very fast and neither team held the lead long. Both teams put on a beautiful passing performance and on both sides the shooting was erratic.

To the excellent work of the Bristol guards, should go the credit of holding down the Morrisville hordes.

Santo was high scorer for Bristol, while Gaston led Morrisville with 10 points.

SPORT SHOTS by Maxwell Gordon

WE were asked to tell about the football game that was played between the St. Ann's Club and the Bristol Athletic Association team . . . more than seven years ago . . . so here goes—

But before we say anything about the contest let me explain some of the circumstances leading up to this game . . .

The official who hired the opposing teams for the Bristol A. A. was very proud of his record as a booker . . . every game he had arranged was played on schedule, until one week, when the Union A. A., of Phoenixville, was engaged to meet the locals.

On the day of the game a big crowd was on hand to witness the contest . . . the visitors had a great reputation on the gridiron and a real game was anticipated . . . hadn't Bristol a great team with off word was received that the Phoenixville eleven could not play . . .

What to do . . . the official booking agent's reputation went "Bloo" . . . wasn't he in a fine spot . . . with the crowd getting impatient, a lot of money paid at the gate and no team to play . . . oh what to do . . .

Someone suggested getting the St. Ann's Club to pinch-hit . . . in desperation the harassed official dashed for his car and got up to Dorrance street just as the Italian boys were getting ready to leave for Palmyra, N. J., to play a game.

Now the uptown lads had a newly-organized team and were just getting experience and building up a reputation by playing away from home each week . . . when asked if they wanted to play Bristol, they hesitated for a few minutes . . . then they went into a conference . . . while the A. A. official sweat blood waiting . . .

The St. Ann's agreed to play under one condition . . . that was . . . that the Bristol players would go easy and not run up a big score . . . the A. A. spokesman agreed to this readily and after giving a much larger money guarantee than expected the game started.

During the first half everything went off as per arrangement with the period ending in a 0-0 tie . . . during the intermission the St. Ann's fans who were unaware of the arrangement to go easy . . . wanted to bet their money on the up-town boys to win . . . saying what a lot of dubs the Bristol A. A.

players turned out to be . . . wouldn't St. Ann's have a fine reputation after this game, and many other remarks not very complimentary to the Bristol team.

All this St. Ann's talk was relayed to the Bristol dressing room before the teams took the field for the second half . . . when the blue and gold manager heard about the talk he told his players to go out and win decisively.

To make a long story shorter, the Bristol boys thoroughly aroused went football crazy and gave the up-town lads an awful shellacking, finally winning by the score of 55-0.

And what a disappointed crowd the St. Ann's fans were . . . they couldn't understand why their team went to pieces in the second half.
